

Policy Number / Ref	ED_03
Version	1.3
Reviewed by / Date	LT/SL	September 2024
Approved by / Date	SMT	September 2021
Review Cycle	Annual

Relationships and Sex Education Curriculum Policy

To be used in conjunction with with the PSHE policy

1. Aims	1
2. Statutory requirements	2
3. Policy development	2
4. Definition	2
5. Curriculum	2
6. Delivery of RSE	3
7. Roles and responsibilities	4
8. Parents' right to withdraw	5
9. Training	6
10. Monitoring arrangements	6
Appendix 1: Curriculum map	7
Appendix 2: By the end of class 5 pupils should know	8
Appendix 3: By the end of class 10 pupils should know	10
Appendix 4: Parent form: withdrawal from sex education within RSE	13

1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

2. Statutory requirements

Our children of Primary school age (Kindergarten age 5+ - Class 5) are required to have Relationships education, as per the statutory guidance, RSE 2021. We are not required to provide sex education but we do teach elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

Our children of secondary school ages (Class 6-10) are required to have both Relationships and Sex education, as per the RSE 2021 guidance.

The Health education set out in the Statutory guidance does not apply to us as an independent school, due to the fact we are already required to teach PSHE under the Independent School Standards 2014. Please see the School's PSHE Policy. We do however have due regard to the government's Health Education guidance.

At Ringwood Waldorf School we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – a working group pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent consultation – parents and carers invited to feedback
4. Pupil consultation - we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE
5. Ratification – once amendments made, the policy shared with trustees and ratified

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- Safe relationships and how to stay safe
- Recognising different types of relationships and family structure

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the woven curriculum and in the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science-based main lessons. Classes revisit themes within the RSE curriculum and they are delivered in an age-appropriate way that is sensitive to the needs of the individual classes and needs of the pupils.

The foundational principles for the RWS RSE curriculum are Love, Trust and Respect.

In Kindergarten and classes 1-5, Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including. By the end of class 5, pupils will be aware of:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Naming body parts
- Being safe
- Recognising abuse and how to report it
- Boundaries and privacy
- Puberty and menstruation

In classes 6-10, RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds. By the end of class 10, pupils will be aware of:

- Families
- Respectful relationships, including friendships
- Being safe
- Consent
- Online and media
- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health
- Pregnancy and choices
- LGBTQIA+
- Sexual harassment, including rape
- Grooming and sexual exploitation

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them for example looked after children or young carers. We will also be mindful of the law and legal requirements, taking care not to condone or encourage illegal activity, such as violent action against people, criminal damage to property, hate crime, terrorism or the illegal use of drugs.

6.1 Inclusivity

We will teach about these topics in a manner that:

- Considers how a diverse range of pupils will relate to them
- Is sensitive to all pupils' experiences
- During lessons, makes pupils feel:
 - Safe and supported
 - Able to engage with the key messages

We will also:

- Make sure that pupils learn about these topics in an environment that's appropriate for them, for example in:
 - A whole-class setting
 - Small groups or targeted sessions
 - 1-to-1 discussions
 - Digital formats
- Give careful consideration to the level of differentiation needed

6.2 Use of resources

We will consider whether any resources we plan to use:

- Are age-appropriate, given the age, developmental stage and background of our pupils
- Complement our Waldorf curriculum
- Are aligned with the teaching requirements set out in the RWS RSE curriculum map and the statutory RSE guidance
- Are evidence-based and contain robust facts and statistics from credible sources
- Are sensitive to pupils' experiences
- Won't provoke distress

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The Board of Trustees

The BoT will approve the RSE policy, and hold the SMT to account for its implementation. This includes ensuring that:

- the subjects are well led, effectively managed and well planned;
- the quality of provision is subject to regular and effective self-evaluation;
- teaching is delivered in ways that are accessible to all pupils with SEND;
- clear information is provided for parents on the subject content and the right to request that their child is withdrawn; and,
- the subjects are resourced, staffed and timetabled in a way that ensures that the school can fulfil its legal obligations.

7.2 The School Management

The SMT is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory/non-science components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory/non-science components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the SMT so that support and training can be implemented.

The teacher responsible for RSE as part of the PSHE curriculum in Ringwood Waldorf School is: Louise Tiley.

7.4 Pupils

During RSE lessons, pupils are expected to treat others with respect and sensitivity.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

8.1 Primary Age

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory/non-science components of sex education within RSE.

At Ringwood Waldorf School, from Kindergarten to Class 5, our RSE curriculum does not include non-statutory/non-science components sex education.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 4 of this policy and addressed to the SMT.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

8.2 Secondary Age

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

In classes 6-10, parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-science (non-statutory) components of sex education within RSE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16, except where the topics form part of our science curriculum. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will support this.

Requests for withdrawal must be put in writing in advance and prior to the start of term, using the form found in Appendix 4 of this policy and addressed to the SMT.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The SMT will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

Alternative provision will be made for pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

Any agreement made to withdraw a pupil from Sex Education will require parents to sign an agreement and this will be reviewed termly and a new agreement made.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE and Handling difficult questions.

The SMT may invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff.

10. Monitoring arrangements

As part of the RSE curriculum, the delivery of RSE is monitored by Louise Tiley through:

Professional discussions, sharing planning, learning walks, classroom visits and observations.

Pupils' progress is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed by Louise Tiley annually. At every review, the policy will be approved by the RWS Board of Trustees.

11. Guidelines for teaching RSE and managing difficult questions

It is important that Staff and pupils feel comfortable during RSE lessons.

The following ground rules will be established

- No put downs
- No naming. Instead use 'I have a friend who....'
- No judging or blaming
- Take turns listening and speaking
- Respectfulness of thoughts and opinions
- Treat each other with respect
- No personal questions to each other (pupils) or teachers
- You (pupils) do not have to share information about yourself.
- Any information shared about another person may not be shared without permission

It may be appropriate in some cases to use a question box in the classroom to give time to consider the response to the question. The question box must not be left unattended and should be removed from the classroom after the exercise. Do not open the box or take questions out in front of the class.

Pupils' questions will be answered in a timely, appropriate and sensitive manner. Questions that are more personal will be addressed in a one to one setting

12. Confidentiality

It will be made clear to pupils that 100% confidentiality can not be assured.

When a teacher believes a pupil to be at risk from others, to themselves or others, staff must follow the safeguarding procedures.

Appendix 1: Curriculum map

Relationships and sex education curriculum map

CLASS	RWS WILL PROMOTE HEALTHY RELATIONSHIPS IN THE FOLLOWING WAYS
EARLY YEARS	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● Provide opportunities for children to play in different sized groups. Plan activities that promote turn-taking.● Encourage boys and girls to play alongside one another and avoid gender stereotyping.● Help them express their thoughts and feelings in different ways and listen to the views of others.● Where possible, allow children to decide whether or not they want to join in with an activity. Help them to say “no” if they don’t want to do something.● Talk about the ways that people are different and similar. For example we may have different hair, eye or skin colour but we all eat, breathe and have feelings.● Talk about personal space and explain that some people might like more or less than others. Teach children that it’s OK to say “no” if they don’t want someone to touch them.
Classes 1-5	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● Empower children to have individuality and help them understand that everyone is unique.● Praise children for demonstrating honesty, kindness, and respect for others.● Give children opportunities to voice their opinions and encourage them to listen to other people’s views.● Help children understand that “no” means “no” and make sure they know who to talk to if they are ever uncomfortable with something they have been asked to do.● Work with children to resolve conflicts and help them understand how others might be affected.● Talk to children about bullying in all its forms and make sure they know how to get help if they need it.
Classes 6-12	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● Encourage young people to be proud of what makes them an individual.● Introduce activities like peer mentoring to help young people support each other.● Talk about relationships that are presented in films, books or the media. Ask young people which aspects they think are healthy or unhealthy, for example independence or control. Talk about the way relationships happen online as well as offline.● As young people get older, discuss issues around sex and consent.

Appendix 2: By the end of class 5 pupils should know

TOPIC	PUPILS SHOULD KNOW
Families and people who care about me	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● That families are important for children growing up because they can give love, security and stability ● The characteristics of healthy family life, commitment to each other, including in times of difficulty, protection and care for children and other family members, the importance of spending time together and sharing each other's lives ● That others' families, either in school or in the wider world, sometimes look different from their family, but that they should respect those differences and know that other children's families are also characterised by love and care ● That stable, caring relationships, which may be of different types, are at the heart of happy families, and are important for children's security as they grow up ● That marriage represents a formal and legally recognised commitment of two people to each other which is intended to be lifelong ● How to recognise if family relationships are making them feel unhappy or unsafe, and how to seek help or advice from others if needed
Caring friendships	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● How important friendships are in making us feel happy and secure, and how people choose and make friends ● The characteristics of friendships, including mutual respect, truthfulness, trustworthiness, loyalty, kindness, generosity, trust, sharing interests and experiences and support with problems and difficulties ● That healthy friendships are positive and welcoming towards others, and do not make others feel lonely or excluded ● That most friendships have ups and downs, and that these can often be worked through so that the friendship is repaired or even strengthened, and that resorting to violence is never right ● How to recognise who to trust and who not to trust, how to judge when a friendship is making them feel unhappy or uncomfortable, managing conflict, how to manage these situations and how to seek help or advice from others, if needed
Respectful relationships	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The importance of respecting others, even when they are very different from them (for example, physically, in character, personality or backgrounds), or make different choices or have different preferences or beliefs ● Practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships ● The conventions of courtesy and manners ● The importance of self-respect and how this links to their own happiness ● That in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and that in turn they should show due respect to others, including those in positions of authority

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● About different types of bullying (including cyberbullying), the impact of bullying, responsibilities of bystanders (primarily reporting bullying to an adult) and how to get help ● What a stereotype is, and how stereotypes can be unfair, negative or destructive ● The importance of permission-seeking and giving in relationships with friends, peers and adults
Online relationships	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● That people sometimes behave differently online, including by pretending to be someone they are not ● That the same principles apply to online relationships as to face-to face relationships, including the importance of respect for others online including when we are anonymous ● The rules and principles for keeping safe online, how to recognise risks, harmful content and contact, and how to report them ● How to critically consider their online friendships and sources of information including awareness of the risks associated with people they have never met ● How information and data is shared and used online
Being safe	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● What sorts of boundaries are appropriate in friendships with peers and others (including in a digital context) ● About the concept of privacy and the implications of it for both children and adults; including that it is not always right to keep secrets if they relate to being safe ● That each person’s body belongs to them, and the differences between appropriate and inappropriate or unsafe physical, and other, contact ● How to respond safely and appropriately to adults they may encounter (in all contexts, including online) whom they do not know ● How to recognise and report feelings of being unsafe or feeling bad about any adult ● How to ask for advice or help for themselves or others, and to keep trying until they are heard ● How to report concerns or abuse, and the vocabulary and confidence needed to do so ● Where to get advice e.g. family, school and/or other sources

Appendix 3: By the end of class 10 pupils should know

TOPIC	PUPILS SHOULD KNOW
Families	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● That there are different types of committed, stable relationships ● How these relationships might contribute to human happiness and their importance for bringing up children ● What marriage is, including their legal status e.g. that marriage carries legal rights and protections not available to couples who are cohabiting or who have married, for example, in an unregistered religious ceremony ● Why marriage is an important relationship choice for many couples and why it must be freely entered into ● The characteristics and legal status of other types of long-term relationships ● The roles and responsibilities of parents with respect to raising of children, including the characteristics of successful parenting ● How to: determine whether other children, adults or sources of information are trustworthy: judge when a family, friend, intimate or other relationship is unsafe (and to recognise this in others' relationships); and, how to seek help or advice, including reporting concerns about others, if needed
Respectful relationships, including friendships	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The characteristics of positive and healthy friendships (in all contexts, including online) including: trust, respect, honesty, kindness, generosity, boundaries, privacy, consent and the management of conflict, reconciliation and ending relationships. This includes different (non-sexual) types of relationship ● Practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships ● How stereotypes, in particular stereotypes based on sex, gender, race, religion, sexual orientation or disability, can cause damage (e.g. how they might normalise non-consensual behaviour or encourage prejudice) ● That in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and that in turn they should show due respect to others, including people in positions of authority and due tolerance of other people's beliefs ● About different types of bullying (including cyberbullying), the impact of bullying, responsibilities of bystanders to report bullying and how and where to get help ● That some types of behaviour within relationships are criminal, including violent behaviour and coercive control ● What constitutes sexual harassment and sexual violence and why these are always unacceptable ● The legal rights and responsibilities regarding equality (particularly with reference to the protected characteristics as defined in the Equality Act 2010) and that everyone is unique and equal

Online and media	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Their rights, responsibilities and opportunities online, including that the same expectations of behaviour apply in all contexts, including online ● About online risks, including that any material someone provides to another has the potential to be shared online and the difficulty of removing potentially compromising material placed online ● Not to provide material to others that they would not want shared further and not to share personal material which is sent to them ● What to do and where to get support to report material or manage issues online ● The impact of viewing harmful content ● That specifically sexually explicit material e.g. pornography presents a distorted picture of sexual behaviours, can damage the way people see themselves in relation to others and negatively affect how they behave towards sexual partners ● That sharing and viewing indecent images of children (including those created by children) is a criminal offence which carries severe penalties including jail ● How information and data is generated, collected, shared and used online
Being safe	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The concepts of, and laws relating to, sexual consent, sexual exploitation, abuse, grooming, coercion, harassment, rape, domestic abuse, forced marriage, honour-based violence and FGM, and how these can affect current and future relationships ● How people can actively communicate and recognise consent from others, including sexual consent, and how and when consent can be withdrawn (in all contexts, including online)
Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● How to recognise the characteristics and positive aspects of healthy one-to-one intimate relationships, which include mutual respect, consent, loyalty, trust, shared interests and outlook, sex and friendship ● That all aspects of health can be affected by choices they make in sex and relationships, positively or negatively, e.g. physical, emotional, mental, sexual and reproductive health and wellbeing ● The facts about reproductive health, including fertility and the potential impact of fertility for men and women ● That there are a range of strategies for identifying and managing sexual pressure, including understanding peer pressure, resisting pressure and not pressurising others ● That they have a choice to delay sex or to enjoy intimacy without sex ● The facts about the full range of contraceptive choices, efficacy and options available ● The facts around pregnancy including miscarriage ● That there are choices in relation to pregnancy (with medically and legally accurate, impartial information on all options, including keeping the baby, adoption, abortion and where to get further help) ● How the different sexually transmitted infections (STIs), including HIV/AIDs, are transmitted, how risk can be reduced through safer sex (including through condom use) and the importance of and facts about testing

- | | |
|--|--|
| | <ul style="list-style-type: none">● About the prevalence of some STIs, the impact they can have on those who contract them and key facts about treatment● How the use of alcohol and drugs can lead to risky sexual behaviour● How to get further advice, including how and where to access confidential sexual and reproductive health advice and treatment |
|--|--|

Appendix 4: Parent form: withdrawal from sex education within RSE

TO BE COMPLETED BY PARENTS
Name of child		Class
Name of parent		Date
Reason for withdrawing from sex education within relationships and sex education
Any other information you would like the school to consider
Parent signature

TO BE COMPLETED BY THE SCHOOL
Agreed actions from discussion with parents (Include notes from discussions with parents and agreed actions taken including alternative arrangements)
Review date:	